SAM STRONG'S SUCCESS.

The Famous Case Still in Court—A New Trial Granted.

Among the most famous contractors of the District of Columbia is Samson Strong, a man who has probably done more work for the United States than any man in the country. During the reign of the Board of Public Works he was awarded certain important contracts, which, as he alleges, were performed to the letter, including certain parts of the original contract. These contracts involved an amount of money in millions of dollars, and for that amount Colossal Strong is today and has been for months a suitor in the courts of the District. Some time since Justice Wyke rendered a judgment against Strong, but on appeal the court of appeals of the District of Columbia yesterday unanimously reversed the ruling of Justice Wyke, and there will be new trial. It is now believed that General George Colonel Strong claims that he has now him on the boundary street sewer $104,000, which claim is before the court. The suit is for damages and evidence rests in the fact that all the work he did for the District stands to-day a monument to his genius, and in his opinion it can't stand up to the present time. No man dares to set up that it was not properly done, as is testified by Engineer Clas, Engineer Mallett, Colgate, Magruder, and every engineer in the country. The work, General B. P. Butler and Mr. Frank T. Browning were the attorneys for Mr. Strong.

TOM JAMES' FILE.

What a Great Civil-Service Reformer has Drawn from the Government.

A veteran sends the following to THE REPUBLICAN, showing the amount that Tom James, the great civil-service reformer, has drawn from the government during the year 1881:

to 1865, custom-house collector, $3,000 per annum, for four years.	$12,000
to 1866, custom-house weigher, New York city; salary, $2,000 per annum, for three years.	6,000
to 1867, deputy collector, custom-house; salary, $1,000 per annum, for five years.	5,000
to 1868, collector, custom-house; salary, $6,000 per annum, for eight years.	48,000 to 1869, collector, custom-house; salary, $6,000 per annum, for one month.	600
Total, $66,600.

Twenty years nine months in the service of the Government.....$66,600

Contract for carrying mails on the New York Central, $10,000 per annum, for three years.

Commission due Tom James as president of Vanderbilt's Uptown Bank; salary, $10,000 per annum, or $1,000 a month.

How many poor, enlisted soldiers are now out of employment who were employed from 1861 to 1865 in protecting the government from which Tom James drew this $6,466.67, while Tom stand at home?

The Virginia Avenue Sewer.

The bids submitted on Saturday for the construction of sewers on Virginia avenue, Sixth, Four-and-a-half, and Thirteenth streets northwest have been aggregated as follows: William Bussey, $1,054,22; William H. Mohler, $13,36,08; Maloney & Co., $1,000,00; John P. O'Farrell, $1,000,00; Lavelle & Mills, $1,000,00; Thomas Joyce, $1,000,00; F. H. Miller, $1,000,00; The committee on public works, $1,000,00; and the contractor given to William Bussey, who is the lowest bidder, was foreshadowed in yesterday's REPUBLICAN. There is about $6,000 between the lowest and highest bids.

The Latest Supreme Suit.

Henry White yesterday entered a suit for damages from his wife, Mrs. Jane, on the grounds of her unfaithfulness and her being now adjudged insane and confined in the St. Elizabeth Asylum. The petitioner alleges that they were married in 1867, and in 1877 he found that his wife had been unfaithful to him. Her name was Roberta Pusey, and when she left him, since that time he had not recognized her as his wife, and in June last she was removed to the insane asylum.

A Cat-o'-ninemust.

An old lady died in Philadelphia last week, aged 90 years old. She was sensible on all subjects but cat-o'-nine tails, had but two hundred. Each one had its name, and her entire time was devoted to their care.
